JURY SELECTED; TRIAL STARTED

Coroner, Physician and Neighbors Testify in Murder Case. All Other Cases Postponed until next Monday.

Examination of witnesses in the trial of Oliver Sharrah, was commenced in Court this morning. One juror remained to be selected at the opening of the session and he was picked as the fourth of the talesmen in the third extra panel called. Edgar P. Hamilton, Cumberland township, was the last juror to enter the box.

It was announced by the Court that all other criminal or civil cases are postponed until Monday of next week. Witnesses are excused until that time. Jurors especially summoned are excused finally.

Four witnesses called by the prosecution testified, they were: Dr. Albert Woerner, coroner of Adams County; Dr. J. McCrea Dickson, who made an examination of the body of Peter Deardorff, the dead man, and Mr. and Mrs. David Shepard, neighbors of the family of Oliver Sharrah, who were the first persons called to the scene on the occurrence early Sunday morning October 10, last.

Dr. Woerner testified that prior to the shooting Sharrah had declared he would kill Deardorff, complaining to him of the latter's intimacy with his (Sharrah's) wife. He reiterated his testimony given at the justice's hearing; of going to the Sharrah home and administering to Peter Deardorff after he had been wounded. The injured man was resigned to his fate and calmly said, "I am not afraid to die", according to Dr. Woerner, although the physician did not give the man any answer when questioned as to whether or not the wound would be fatal. When Dr. Woerner talked with him, Deardorff said "He shot me. I didn't think he would," but the coroner could not recall that Deardorff had mentioned Sharrah's name. Upon cross examination he testified that Sharrah was not strong physically and frequently had come to him for treatment for himself, as well as his family. The prisoner stated to him, he said, that Deardorff had once choked him when he ordered him from his house.

The testimony of Dr. J. McCrea Dickson showed that the gunshot wound which caused the death of Deardorff, entered the upper part of the abdomen at an angle of about fifteen degrees and took a downward course, at about an angle of thirty degrees to the right. Upon cross examination by Attorney Swope, for the defense, Dr. Dickson declared that a wound of the character fatal to the man could have been inflicted while the victim was in a stooping posture, facing the weapon used, as well as in a reclining position, which it was apparent the prosecution was attempting to show.

Mrs. David Sharrah testified that she and her husband had been called to the Sharrah home about 3:30 in the morning and when they arrived there found Deardorff lying upon the grass outside the fence in front of the house. He was suffering much pain and between moans called for his brother, Charles Deardorff. She and Mrs. Sharrah placed a blanket on the ground for him to lie upon and he rolled over on it without aid. In conversation with them, which was interrupted by his expressions of pain, he said, "Ol Sharrah shot me, the —". He asked me in and I didn't think he would do it." He did not say anything of circumstances leading to the alleged shooting. She returned home before Deardorff died.

David Shepard testified of going to the Sharrah home with his wife and then summoning a doctor at Deardorff's request. He corroborated his wife's testimony as to the man's statement accusing Sharrah. Some statements in his testimony seemed to be contradictory to those made at a hearing before the justice some time ago, and that they might prepare for the examination of the witness, in view of this fact, Attorneys Swope and Benner requested an adjournment at 11:45. A recess was accordingly taken until 1:30.

Court convened at 1:30 for the afternoon session and David Shepard, the last witness of the morning, was recalled. Attorney Swope requested

BIG BANQUETS ARE AT HAND

Fire Company Expects to Dine 250 People To-Night and Eagles Hold their Annual Banquet Thursday Evening.

With the Firemen's annual banquet to-night and the eighth annual dinner of the Eagles' on Thursday evening a large part of the town's male population is insured against starvation for at least 48 hours. Preparations for both events have been under way for some days past and in each case the committee is endeavoring to excel the affairs held in former years.

Allan B. Plank, Edgar Tawney, C. O. Myers, and Wm. D. Gilbert, the committee in charge of arrangements for the firemen's banquet have everything in readiness for this evening and they expect to serve about 250 people. The affair will be held in the I. O. O. F. Hall. Each table has been put in charge of a chairman of one of the regular fire committees, and he will be responsible for the service at that table. This was done so that the work could be systematized. It is thought the banqueters can be served more promptly than has been the case before.

The invitations issued to the active and honorary members stated that the guests would gather at the Engine House but this was an error. They are expected to assemble at the Hall so the banquet may start promptly at 7 o'clock. The menu will consist of: oysters, roast turkey, with cranberry sauce, celery, sour kraut, mashed potatoes, cold ham and other vegetables. Ice cream and cake will be served for dessert.

Eagles' Banquet

The Eagles' banquet, which is the eighth annual affair of the kind, will be held in the Eagles' Home on Chambersburg street and the guests will be limited to the members only. Warren Gilbert has charge of its preparation under the direction of the chairman of the banquet committee, Donald Stallsmith. There are 204 members of the order and they expect nearly 200 to take part in the dinner. The menu for the occasion will be similar to that served to the firemen except that chicken will be substituted for turkey. There will be a smoker for the remainder of the evening after the banqueters have finished dining.

BULLETIN ON CABBAGE

New Treatise Issued by State College. Full of Information.

A new bulletin, No. 137, "Experiments with Cabbage," prepared by Professor C. E. Myers, of the department of horticulture, has just been issued by the Pennsylvania State College. This bulletin covers experiments on cabbage to determine such points as the relative value of early and late sowing of seed, of large and small plants at first transplanting and of different planting distances. Special attention has been given also to experiments with late cabbage.

Some phases of these experiments have been conducted through a period of six years. Interesting conclusions concerning environmental, seasonal and other factors in their influence on the experiment are carefully summed up.

Every vegetable grower should have a copy of this bulletin which is free upon request to any resident of Pennsylvania.

GOOD BOXING AT McSHERRYSTOWN

Bouts are Said to have been Best ever Staged there. Yorkers Win. Number of Gettysburgians Attend.

Johnny Gill, the York welterweight pugilist outfought Ford Munger in ten rounds at the McSherrystown boxing show Tuesday night, before a crowd of over 600 people. Gill fought aggressively the entire mill and landed stinging blows in the final rounds that made the Kalamazoo boxer hang on. Both boys fought slow the first two rounds, but started to mix things up in the third. Munger landed often in the fourth but the jabs had no effect on his opponent. Gill shaded Munger in the fifth and sent over slashing blows in the ninth and tenth rounds. In the other rounds honors were even.

Kd Herman, the York lightweight, trounced Lew Stinger, of Philadelphia, who recently fought a draw with Eddie O'Keef, the much touted Philadelphia. Stinger fought cleverly, but Herman appeared too strong for him and repeatedly rushed him against the ropes, landing blow after blow to the face of the Quaker City lad. Herman closed Stinger's left eye in the final round with a hard right swing. This fight was one of the best ever witnessed in Adams County and rivaled those of the larger cities. Herman fought from beginning to end in panther fashion and had his man groggy at the end of the bout.

Kid Smith, of Columbia, outpointed Dutch Shaffer in the second preliminary, while Nathan Bell put the K. O. sign on Joe Barnett, in the fourth round. A number of Gettysburg people witnessed the show which was the best ever held in McSherrystown.

NEW BULLETIN ON LIME-SULPHUR

State Division of Zoology Issues Bulletin on this Popular Spraying Solution. May be had Free for the Asking.

The last issue of the Bi-Monthly Bulletin of the Division of Zoology of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture contains a special and complete discussion of the subject of lime-sulphur solution brought down to date by Zoologist H. A. Surface.

In this Bulletin is discussed the history of the lime-sulphur solution, and methods of making and testing the same. There is a plain discussion of the subject of the kind of lime and kind of sulphur to use, method of boiling, how to keep or store the solution, how to strain it, dilute it and apply it. The self-boiled lime-sulphur solution, according to Scott's formula, made for summer spray, is also discussed in detail, as is the commercial lime-sulphur solution. A new feature not before treated in Bulletins or publications is a series of directions for the use of the sediment. It has been found that the sediment for making lime-sulphur is very valuable for many purposes, one of the most important of which is to wash the trunks of the trees and keep them from being attacked by insects and rodents.

This Bulletin closes with a detailed discussion of the uses of lime-sulphur solution, which includes its dilution and application as a summer spray and also as a dormant or winter spray. It is also recommended as a fungicide, a germicide, a wash for tree borers, a paint for sterilizing pruning implements, for spraying poultry houses and stables, to kill disease germs and lice and other purposes.

As this Bulletin is issued by one of the bureaus of the Department of Agriculture and is available for the asking, it should be in the hands of every person interested in any subject mentioned above. The first part of the Bulletin is devoted to a discussion of the principals of pest warfare, giving all the various formulae in detail that are needed in pest suppression.

The boy took the check to the bank Tuesday and received the $150, what the check called for, from Teller R. E. Stouffer. An hour or so later young Graff took another check to the same bank. This check also contained the signature of Albert Wentworth and was for the amount of $350.

Teller Stouffer received this check and at once became suspicious. He went to the telephone and called up Mr. Wentworth and the Graff boy, thinking that he was suspected, fled from the bank.

CLERGYMAN'S CAR RUNS MAN DOWN

Rev. Daniel E. Weigle's Automobile Hits and Seriously Injures a Pedestrian in Philadelphia. Released.

Driving north on Broad street, at Cumberland, Philadelphia, in his automobile, Rev. Daniel Weigle, pastor of the Messiah Lutheran church, Sixth and Jefferson street, Philadelphia, ran over and probably fatally injured Frank Noad, 41 years old, who live at No. 1944 North Reese street, Philadelphia. Placing the man in his auto, Rev. Weigle made a fast run to the Samaritan hospital, where the doctors said the victim's skull was probably fractured. He also received a fracture of the right leg.

Rev. Weigle then drove to the Thirty first district police station, and gave himself up. He was released on his own recognizance, and was given a hearing this morning. According to the clergyman, who lives at 1437 North Fifteenth street, Philadelphia, he was running his auto at a moderate rate of speed, and when he reached Cumberland street he saw Noad suddenly walk directly in front of the machine. Before he could stop or steer to one side he had struck the man.

Rev. Weigle was graduated from Gettysburg College with the Class of 1906 and from the Theological Seminary four years later. He is said to have built up a remarkable attendance at his church by the use of publicity and has been repeatedly interviewed concerning his views on church advertising. His father, Dr. E. D. Weigle, of Camp Hill, is a trustee of College and both father and son are well known in Gettysburg.

MRS. CLARA HESS OGDEN

After a lengthy illness, Mrs. Clara Hess Ogdien died Monday evening at the age of 67 years, 6 months and 18 days. Mrs. Hess was the widow of the late William A. Ogdien and had a host of friends in her neighborhood.

She was formerly from Taneytown, Md., but has resided in Gettysburg since her marriage to Mr. Ogdien, who has been dead for some years. Mrs. Ogdien is survived by one son and four daughters, William Ogdien, in the employ of the Gettysburg Department Store; Misses Flora and Phoebe Ogdien, living at home; Mrs. H. C. Roehner, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Mrs. Shimer, Hudson, N. Y.

The funeral will be held from her late home on Steinwehr avenue, Thursday afternoon. Services will be conducted by Dr. T. J. Barkley, with interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

MRS. MARY SANDERS

Mrs. Mary Sanders, widow of Zachariah Sanders, died at her home in Fairfield on Saturday. She was about 70 years of age. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Mrs. Sanders was a Miss Bigham before her marriage and has resided in the county all her life.

She is survived by the following step children: John Sanders near Littlestown; Mrs. Jennie Numemaker, Hanover; Mrs. George Linn, Gettysburg; and Mrs. William Reed, Fairfield.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon with services at St. Mary's Catholic church.

INTERVENTION MAY RE-ELECT WILSON

That Is Why Some Republicans Oppose War In Mexico.

1898 HISTORY MAY REPEAT

Then the Democrats Forced McKinley Into War With Spain and as a Result the G. O. P. Remained Continuously in Power Until 1912, When It Lost as a Result of Split.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special.]—Not all Republicans want the president to intervene in Mexico and start a war which will last long after the next election. Quite a number of the shrewdest members of the party think that a war in Mexico will re-elect Wilson and probably keep the Democratic party in power for many years. That was the result when the Democrats forced the Republicans into war with Spain.

But there are other Republicans who believe that politics should not be considered in this matter of the killing of American citizens in Mexico. Senator Borah is one of them. "There is no danger of forcing intervention; at least not at present," said the Idaho senator. "Perhaps along about May, when it will be of the greatest benefit to the administration, there will be a war of some kind."

Senator Borah for a long time has been bitter in his comments on the Mexican policy of the administration and says he is not going to be influenced by political considerations in demanding that the rights of Americans be respected.

An Active Chairman.
Congressman Ferris of Oklahoma is chairman of the public lands committee. He has accomplished the rather wonderful feat of putting through the house half a dozen important measures affecting public lands, almost covering the entire conservation system, and providing for benefits to settlers in various ways. He has been able to do all this with expedition because he thoroughly understood the bills in his charge.

When We Would Fight.
"Suppose Japan did take the Philippines," said Senator Williams of Mississippi; "they would be better off than under our government." Then he added that if Japan or any other nation took the islands by force we would fight until we were bankrupt and all our young men had been sacrificed before we would permit such nation to hold them by force.

It is because that spirit exists or is said to exist that there seems to be a great hurry just now to get rid of the islands. And if Japan gobbled them up after we got out, well, that would be up to the Filipinos.

The Socialist Sense of Humor.
Meyer London, the Socialist, asking for the privilege of extending his remarks in the Record, said: "The last time I obtained that permission I did not take advantage of it. A speech extended in the Record and not delivered on the floor looks to me a funny thing, but as you are so funny I see no reason why I cannot once in a while be as funny as you are."

His Military Record.
Congressman Gardner is a soldier. He "fit in the Spanish war," as some one remarked. J. Hampton Moore took occasion to dig up Gardner's military record and put it in print, and it showed that Gardner did like every other man in the Spanish war; he did all he could, and when it was over he was recommended for a brevet major for gallantry at Cosmo, Porto Rico. Any one who knows Gardner has no doubt that he would fight as a soldier if there was an occasion. And those who have engaged in a parliamentary bout with him know that they have been in a row. He can take care of himself.

Bailey and the Lady.
Former Senator Bailey was sitting beside a lady at a dinner party, and she was severe in her strictures against the government for not protecting Americans while traveling on foreign ships. She told of the danger she had encountered on one of those ships.

"Madam," said Bailey, "why did you not take one of the neutral ships?"
"Oh," she replied, "I couldn't think of going on one of those ships, they are so out of date and uncomfortable."

"Ah," said Bailey, "you were willing to sacrifice safety for comfort."

A Colorado Estimate.
During one of the "war talks" in the senate Senator Thomas of Colorado introduced a statement to the effect that 70 per cent of the sentiment for greater military preparation was created by right-wing manufacturers. That idea is spreading in congress, and it is doing the cause of preparedness considerable harm.

All He Wants Is $100,000,000.
Perhaps $100,000,000 does not look very large to some people, but that is the sum which Congressman Thompson of Oklahoma would have the government pay to the Confederate soldiers and widows of such soldiers as a refund of the cotton tax collected during the civil war.

Not a Happy Topic.
"You say Mr. and Mrs. Twobles are never at a loss for something to talk about?" "Exactly." "Fortunate couple!" "Far from it. They talk about each other's faults for hours at a time."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

WARTIME NURSES LETTERS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

The Great Battle of Mercy Won by Florence Nightingale.

WORK OF THE GREAT PIONEER.

She Changed the Military Hospital From a Shambles Into a Life Saving Station and Became the Mother of Modern Nursing Methods.

Florence Nightingale, whose death occurred in 1911 at the advanced age of ninety, was a revolutionist in the most splendid sense of that term. She it was who revolutionized nursing to that extent that she may be considered as the mother of that profession.

Previous to her entrance into the field the sick were the victims of callous ignorance and grasping indifference, but Florence Nightingale introduced the trained, skilled and gentle hospital nurse, district nurse and military nurse of today.

Certainly to few women—and to few men—has it been given to serve their fellows so splendidly and so effectively. Florence Nightingale found chaos in military hospitals; she created order and all that order implies.

After the battle of Alma, in the Crimea war, the military hospital at Scutari was like a dirty shambles. Wounded men died in hundreds in the midst of squalor and vermin. Crowds of poisonous flies buzzed ceaselessly above the sick; medical supplies were inadequate; proper food could not be had; there were no arrangements for washing or sanitation.

The plight of the wounded soldiers, herded together in this hotbed of pestilence, was worse than if they had been left upon the battlefield. "Are there no devoted women among you?" wrote Russell, the famous war correspondent of the London Times, "able and willing to go forth and administer to the sick and suffering soldiers in the east in the hospitals at Scutari? Are none of the daughters of England at this hour of need ready for such a work of mercy?"

This appeal was answered almost instantly. Sidney Herbert was then at the head of the war office, and when the authorities began to be inundated by letters from women of all classes anxious to respond to the call Mr. Herbert's thoughts at once turned to the lady who was in his opinion the one woman capable of organizing and taking out to the Crimea a staff of nurses. The woman was Florence Nightingale.

Miss Nightingale was thirty-four at the time, and from her childhood she had devoted herself to the study of hospital nursing and hospital management. In 1849 she had enrolled herself as a volunteer nurse at the first training school for sick nurses established in modern times, the Deaconess institution at Kaiserswerth, on the Rhine. When the war broke out there was no woman in all England better fitted than Florence Nightingale to give to England's soldiers comfort and relief.

Mr. Herbert wrote to Miss Nightingale and asked her if she would go out and supervise the whole thing. His letter crossed one from her, for on the same day Florence Nightingale had written to the war office offering her services in the hospital at Scutari. The offer showed splendid courage.

Within a week of making her resolve, Miss Nightingale had her first contingent of nurses in marching order. She had selected thirty-eight nurses to accompany her, and they arrived at Scutari on the day before the battle of Inkerman. And without a moment's loss of time that lady in chief and her staff set to work to cleanse the Augean stable which they found waiting for them at the great barrack hospital.

In a short time the place was entirely renovated. Everything was scrubbed, old clothes were burned, a kitchen and laundry were established, and the place became a comfortable, well organized hospital. Florence Nightingale worked as hard at the routine and organizing as at the nursing itself. At all hours of the day and night she would walk silently, lamp in hand, through the wards, giving a word of comfort here or instruction there. She saved the lives literally of hundreds.

Wounded men, so horribly mangled that doctors gave them no hope, and other nurses could not bring them selves to touch them, were saved from death by the tireless care of this one wonderful woman. The men worshiped the very shadow of this "lady with the lamp."

The supreme womanliness of the work of Miss Nightingale made her the idol of the English people. Three monarchs paid their tribute to her. Remembered by royalty she was not forgotten by the people. On her return, shattered in health, from Scutari ($250,000) was presented to her by a grateful nation. She used it all for the founding of the Nightingale Training Home for Nurses at St. Thomas hospital, England, which is practically the parent of modern training homes throughout the world, just as Florence Nightingale was the mother of all present day nurses.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

that inasmuch as the witness had served in the jury of inquest, the Commonwealth be compelled to interrogate him to ascertain all he knows about the matter, whether gotten from his visit to the Sharrah home on the morning of the alleged murder, or from testimony before the inquest, or the investigation prior thereto, before the defense goes further with the cross examination. Argument of counsel followed. Court was of the opinion it should be left at the discretion of Commonwealth to just what degree the evidence should be produced. The examination of Shepard was then continued at some length.

All of Tuesday afternoon was spent in selecting two jurors. Additional panels comprising 40 men were exhausted in making the selection. The sheriff, during the interval between Tuesday evening and this morning, subpoenaed an additional fifteen men and from this lot the fourth man was chosen as juror number 12.

The completed jury now is: Samuel Miller, a barber employed in the shop of H. B. Sefton, at Gettysburg; John F. Gable, a farmer of Huntingtown township; E. C. Fitz, a farmer of Liberty township; William F. Fleming, a farmer of Straban township; Frank Patterson, a cabinet maker employed at the Reaser Furniture Factory in Gettysburg; John Stevens, a farmer of Cumberland township; John Ditzler, a farmer of Union township; W. ART IN BOOKBINDING.

How Miss Lahey Won Mercier, the Master, For Her Tutor.

A woman who spent ten years and all the money she had in the world to become a skilled bookbinder is Marguerite Duprez Lahey. After studying with the most skilled tooler in Paris, says the American Magazine, Miss Lahey went to the world's greatest craftsman, M. Mercier.

M. Mercier was a man of large wealth and broad culture. He toiled for the love of it in his beautiful Paris home. His only pupil was his only son. No one in the Latin quarter had dared to penetrate M. Mercier's atelier. Undaunted, this American girl, armed with the "Life of Fragonard, by Pierre de Nolac," the toll of years and which had earned M. Mercier's praise, went to M. Mercier's home.

The master was at his country seat. "Is this your work?" cried his son, when Miss Lahey had disclosed the volume. "Leave it with me. I will show it to father. It will please him to see such strong work."

"And now what do you want of me?" asked the master, when tremulously she called later for the book and Mercier had sent his praise.

"To work with you."

"Good! I take you."

Three times a week for two summers she worked under Mercier's supervision, the master tactfully refusing the pupil's proffered money.

"Perfect!" he said, when she had finished Prosper Merimee's "Chronicle of Charles IX."

Before this triumph her gold tooling on a volume of Frederic Masson's "Napoleon and Women" procured for her the work of the late J. P. Morgan's library. This was in 1908—the turning point of her unique career. Hers is the distinction of having designed, tooled and bound the cover of Mr. Morgan's personal copy of the catalogue of his world famous Chinese porcelain collection.

Then It Got Cool.

At a dinner in Dublin there were two sisters present. One had just emerged from her widow's weeds, and the other was not long married, but her husband was in India. A young barrister who was present was chosen to take the young widow to dinner. Unfortunately he was under the impression that his partner was the lady whose husband was in India. The conversation commenced by the lady observing how hot it was. "Yes, it is very hot," replied the barrister, "but not so hot as where your husband is."

Abacadabra a Fever Cure.
Long before a change of climate came to be advertised as a cure for hay fever, an idea the railroads have been suspected of fostering, a simpler remedy was thought to be the word abacadabra. This magical word was once used as a charm against ague and fevers. Its meaning is disputed. As a charm it was written to form an inverted triangle by dropping the last letter at each successive repetition.—Kansas City Times.

GREAT BRITAIN FACES MANY DIFFICULTIES IN ENDEAVORING TO BLOCKADE ALL GERMANY

Two Great Fleets Would Be Necessary, One For the North Sea and Another For the Baltic.

Kiel Canal Enables Kaiser to Send His Navy to Either Sea on a Few Hours' Notice.

INTERNATIONAL law as laid down at The Hague peace court and agreed to by the maritime powers of the world provides that a blockade in order to be binding must be effective. It must be maintained by sufficient force to prevent access to the enemy coast line.

England's blockade of Germany up to the present time has not been effective. Commerce has been going on between Germany's Baltic ports and Sweden. Now Great Britain proposes to make the blockade complete, effective—to patrol the Baltic with sufficient warships to prevent any neutral vessel entering or leaving a German port.

Whether or not she can succeed in doing this is merely a matter of opinion, but there are many obstacles in the way. First and of greatest importance there is the Kiel canal. Germany has a fleet in this canal second in power to England's alone. It can steam the sixty-one miles through the canal and go from the North Sea to the Baltic in a few hours, whereas it would take an English fleet a couple of days to cruise around the northern shores of Denmark and go from one sea to the other.

Two Big Navies Needed.

Thus it is readily seen that in order to establish an effective blockade the entente allies would be compelled to have two fleets as strong or stronger than the German navy, one in the North sea and the other in the Baltic. This, of course, in addition to the vessels that are now being used in the Mediterranean and other naval theaters of war.

Should England send an inferior fleet to the Baltic, Germany in all probability would send her ships out and get some action. Should the North sea squadron be weakened in order to establish the blockade the Kaiser would probably send his ships out past Heligoland, and the naval action would take place where Great Britain had the smaller fleet.

But it may be possible for the allies, for Russia and France have a good many first class ships and would lend valuable aid. It would take a navy larger than any power in the world possesses to erect a barrier of warships along the entire German coast, and for the blockade to be effective this would be necessary. Unless it is done it is doubtful if the embargo would be recognized by the neutral nations whose commerce would be affected.

Among the possible solutions of the problems now under consideration by England is a scheme whereby neutral governments would provide a naval convoy through British waters for merchant vessels carrying a noncontraband cargo, guaranteed as such by the governments concerned. This, of course, is only a partial solution, and the difficulties of it are foreseen.

Blockades Always Important.

Blockades have always formed one of the most interesting features of wars. An effective blockade now exists in the Mediterranean and no ship can enter Constantinople. The United States established and maintained an effective blockade at Havana and Manila. But perhaps the most notable blockade in all history was the action of the federal government in establishing a blockade of the 200 ports in the Confederacy's territory during our civil war. The rules governing blockades today were compiled largely from the precedents established at that time.

In the sixties it was deemed impossible to carry out such a mammoth bottling scheme, but it was done. How gigantic a task it was may be gathered from an extract of a speech made by Senator James H. Hammond of South Carolina at that time:

"We have 3,000 miles of coastline. The first farm paper was printed in England in 1851 and dignified itself with the title Collection of Letters for the Improvement of Husbandry and Trade.

Clearly the nations will have to do some amending at the first big conference following the close of the conflict.

International Blockade Law.

The articles follow:

Article 1.—A blockade must not exist beyond the ports or coasts belonging to or occupied by the enemy.

Article 2.—In accordance with the declaration of Paris of 1856 a blockade in order to be binding must be effective—that is to say, it must be maintained by force sufficient to prevent access to the enemy coast line.

Article 3.—The question whether a blockade is effective is a question of fact.

Article 4.—A blockade is not regarded as raised if the blockading force is temporarily withdrawn on account of stress of weather.

Article 5.—A blockade must be applied impartially to the ships of all nations.

Article 6.—The commander of a blockading force may give permission to a warship to enter and subsequently leave a blockaded port.

Article 7.—In circumstances of distress, acknowledged by an officer of a blockading force, a neutral vessel may enter a place under the blockade and subsequently leave it, provided she has neither discharged nor shipped a cargo there.

Article 8.—A blockade in order to be binding must be declared to and notified by the blockading power to the neutral powers by the blockading power by means of a communication, addressed to the governments direct or to their representatives accredited to it, (2) to the local authorities by the officer commanding the blockading force. The local authorities will in turn inform the foreign consular officers at the port or on the coast line under the blockade as soon as possible.

Article 9.—A declaration of blockade is notified (1) to neutral powers by the blockading power by means of a communication, addressed to the governments direct or to their representatives accredited to it, (2) to the local authorities by the officer commanding the blockading force. The local authorities will in turn inform the foreign consular officers at the port or on the coast line under the blockade as soon as possible.

Article 10.—The rules as to declaration and notification of blockade apply to cases where the limits of a blockade are extended or where a blockade is re-established after having been raised.

Article 11.—The voluntary raising of a blockade, as also any restriction in the limits of a blockade, must be notified in the manner prescribed by article 10.

Article 12.—The liability of a neutral vessel to capture for breach of blockade is contingent on her knowledge, actual or presumptive, of the blockade.

Article 13.—Failing proof to the contrary, knowledge of the blockade is presumed in the vessel left a neutral port, subsequent to notification of the blockade, to the power to which such port belongs, provided that such notification was made in sufficient time.

Article 14.—If a vessel approaching a blockade port has no knowledge, actual or presumed, of the blockade the notification, must be made to the vessel itself by an officer of one of the ships of the blockading force. This notification should be entered in the ship's logbook and must state the day and the hour and the geographical position of the vessel at the time. If, through the negligence of the vessel, the blockading force is not notified of the blockade, no period has been mentioned within which neutral vessels may come out of a neutral port coming out of the blockade port must be allowed to pass free.

Article 15.—Neutral vessels may not be captured for breach of blockade except within the area of operations of the warships detailed to render the blockade effective.

Article 16.—The blockading force must not have access to neutral ports or coasts.

Article 17.—Whatever may be the ultimate destination of a vessel or her cargo, she cannot be captured for breach of blockade if at the moment she is on her way to a nonblockaded port.

Article 18.—A vessel which has broken blockade on war or which has attempted to break blockade is liable to capture as long as she is pursued by a ship of the blockading force. If the pursuit is abandoned or if the blockade is raised her capture can no longer be effected.

Article 19.—A vessel found guilty of breach of blockade is liable to condemnation. The cargo is also condemned unless it is proved that at the time of the shipment of the goods the shipper neither knew nor could have known of the intention to break the blockade.

CCAL $40 A TON IN ITALY

Only the Wealthy Can Afford a Fire Which Is a Luxury.

Anthracite is selling in Italy at more than $40 a ton at the present time although considerable shipments of American coal lie unsold in the coa pockets at the seaports. Only the wealthiest people have been able to afford coal fires.

The poorer classes consider fire a luxury and only occasionally are able to get enough wood to indulge in a blaze. A birdseye view of any Italian city at present shows only a few scattering wisps of smoke, mostly from locomotives, a few factories and hotels.

Materials in Battleship.

A modern battleship contains all the metals from the roughest iron to pure gold; all woods from deal to the most expensive oaks and mahogany; also all fabrics from canvas to silk.

Insects Bother Rhinoceros.

A rhinoceros rolls in the mud because little insects get between the folds of its skin and worry it. If it gets its body covered with mud, they are unable to reach the skin.

Scientific Farming

BLUEBERRY CULTURE.

Berries Thrive Best on Soils Otherwise Almost Worthless.

[Prepared by United States department of agriculture.]

Blueberries thrive best on soils which are so acid that they are usually considered almost worthless for ordinary agricultural purposes. Blueberry culture, therefore, offers possibilities of profit to individual landowners in districts in which the general conditions are especially hard and unpromising. Blueberries cannot be grown in ordinary fertile soils.

Although frequently confused, especially in the south and in the middle west, blueberries and huckleberries are quite distinct. In New England the name "huckleberry" is restricted to berries which contain large seeds, with bony coverings like minute peach pits which crackle between the teeth, while the name "blueberry" is applied to various species of berries containing many, but very small, seeds. It is the latter, not the large seeded huckleberry, which offers possibilities for profitable culture.

At the present stage of the blueberry industry it is best to begin by transplanting the most promising wild bushes, selecting them for the size, flavor, color and earliness of the berry as well as for the vigor and productivity of the bush. These plants can be propagated in various ways which are described in detail in a professional paper of the United States department of agriculture, bulletin No. 334, by Frederick V. Coville. The aim of the cultivator should be to secure bushes which will produce large berries. These cost less to pick than small ones and bring a higher price on the market.

The three fundamental requirements for successful blueberry culture are: First, an acid soil, especially one composed of peat and sand; second, good drainage and thorough aeration of the surface soil, and, third, permanent but moderate soil moisture. Next in importance to these essentials is a location such that the berries may reach the market without delay. The best prices are obtained about the beginning of the wild blueberry season. The main crop of wild blueberries comes from northern New England, Canada and northern Michigan. A location to the south of these areas where the berries will mature earlier is, therefore, to be desired for the commercial cultivator. One of the most promising districts now known is the cranberry region of New Jersey, where berries mature early and the shipping facilities to the market in Philadelphia, New York and Boston are good.

Another important factor to be considered in selecting a location for a blueberry patch is the possibility of late spring freezes. For this reason the bottoms of valleys should be avoided. Freezing seldom injures the blueberry plant itself, but the fruit crop is often destroyed in this way. From past observations it appears that wild blueberries growing in or around bodies of water frequently escape the injurious effects of late spring freezes, and it seems, therefore, that a flooding equipment for blueberry plantations similar to those used for cranberry bogs may, under certain circumstances, prove commercially advantageous.

At the present time, however, only a beginning has been made in blueberry culture. The yield and profits in field plantations from improved bushes have not as yet been ascertained. There is, however, one small plantation in Indiana where complete records have been maintained for the past six years. This plantation was started in 1889 in a natural blueberry bog which was first drained and then set with wild blueberry bushes transplanted without selection for individual productivity or size of berries. On this plantation the yield per acre has averaged 1,741 quarts for the past six years. This average would have been somewhat higher except for the almost total failure of the crop in 1910, due to late spring freezes. An average of 1 1/2 cents a quart has been received for the berries, and the net profit per acre is estimated at $116 a year. In this estimate allowance has been made for interest, taxes and depreciation. The expense for weeding, cultivation and irrigation is placed at $20 an acre and the cost of picking at 5 cents a quart.

OUR YOUNG WOMEN

are so often subject to headache—are languid, pale and nervous—because their blood is thin or insufficient. They are not really sick and hesitate to complain, but they lack that ambition and vivacity which is their birthright. They do not need drugs—but do need the tonic and nourishment in Scott's Emulsion that makes richer blood, fills hollow cheeks, suppresses nervousness and establishes strength. Nourishment alone makes blood and Scott's Emulsion is the essence of concentrated nourishment, free from wines, alcohols or opiates.

If mother or daughter is frail, pale or nervous, give her Scott's for one month and see the betterment. It has a wholesome, "nutty" flavor. Avoid substitutes. At any drug store.

AIRMEN SHELL FRENCH CITIES

Dunkirk and Nancy Attacked by German Aviators.

SEAPLANE IS SHOT DOWN

Is Believed to be Teuton Machine
That Participated in Raids on British Coast.

London, Jan. 26.—Air activity on a greater scale than at any other time since the war began is now the chief feature of the military operations on the western front.

In the past forty-eight hours, French airmen have shelled seven towns in the German lines and military camps and the Germans have attacked five English and French cities.

British warships again have been targeted by German submarines on the Belgian coast in the co-operation with air squadrons which shelled the German towns from the sky.

Dunkirk, in northern France, was shelled by German aeroplanes, it was officially announced by the admiralty. In addition to the military hospitals at Dunkirk, the French and British have used it since the early days of the war as a distributing point and concentration place for troops. Dunkirk has frequently been attacked by German airmen and once it was shelled by the Germans who used a gun with a twenty-two mile range.

Despatches from the front received in Paris gave the aerial attack on Dunkirk did little damage of military importance.

The destruction of a German seaplane, off the Belgian coast, was also announced by the admiralty. The seaplane was shot down in the North sea, not far from Newport. Newport is in the allies' lines. It lies nine miles west of Ostende and about five miles northeast of Furness, in Belgium.

The admiralty statement says the seaplane was forced to the water by a British machine.

It is believed the seaplane was either on its way to bombard English cities, or was one of the machines which took part in the English coast raids Sunday and Monday.

The city of Nancy was again bombarded by long-range German guns and in the afternoon a number of bombs were dropped from German aeroplanes. The damages from the bombardment were considerable and only two persons were wounded while the aeroplane attack is reported to have been without result.

The German war office statement said: "A German aeroplane squadron attacked the military establishment aerodrome at Nancy and the factories of Baccara. A French biplane fell with its occupants near Renell, north west of Thicourt. The machine and crew were undamaged."

CARRANZA IS WARNED
Reduction of Garrison at Cananea Despite Pledges, is Protested.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Reduction of the Carranza garrison at Cananea to less than one hundred men has alarmed the state department, and resulted in representations to the Mexican embassy calling attention to Carranza's promise to maintain adequate troops there.

The Mexican situation was complicated also by the direct assertion that the Duran brothers, executed on Sunday in Juarez for the murder of Ben Alers, an American, themselves were native Americans. Both the Durans, it is said, were born in New Mexico.

State department officials have observed with apprehension the execution of sixteen Americans at Santa Ysabel and the slaying of other Americans in Chihuahua. The opinion has been expressed that the Carranza authorities were bent only upon creating a good impression in the United States, and officials fear that in this program innocent persons may meet death while the real culprits escape.

Child Burned by Candle.
Paulsboro, N. J., Jan. 26.—When her clothing was fired by a candle she was carrying, Jean, five-year-old daughter of Councilman and Mrs. Albert Brown, was severely burned about the face and body. Her father's hands were severely burned in removing the burning clothing from the child.

May Live After a 16-Story Fall.
Chicago, Jan. 26.—Physicians at St. Luke's hospital said the chances for the recovery of Miss Minnie B. Werner, twenty-one, who fell from the sixteenth floor of the Transportation building, were excellent. Miss Werner denied she tried to commit suicide.

Tests Revolver; Ends Life.
Scranton, Jan. 26.—Gideon Lisk, sixty-four years old, took his revolver and going to the rear of his lot on Foster avenue, discharged four shots into the air to make sure the weapon was in working order. He then put the fifth bullet into his brain and fell over dead.

His Last Excuse.

U. S. STEEL RESUMES COMMON DIVIDENDS

First Payment Since December
30, 1914.

New York, Jan. 26.—The United States Steel corporation resumed dividend payments on its common stock when the directors declared a quarterly distribution of 1 1/4 per cent.

This restores the common stock to a five per cent basis. It was the first payment authorized on the junior is due since the dividend declared for the September quarter of 1914, which was 1/2 of one per cent. Prior to that the common stock had been paying five per cent since June, 1910.

The total of net earnings of the corporation for the quarter ended December 31, 1915, were $51,232,788, according to the quarterly report. This breaks all records of previous earnings. The net income for the same quarter was $49,853,113 and the surplus $23,300,692.

These returns compare with total earnings of $38,710,644; net income of $30,045,701, and surplus of $18,037,241 at the end of the preceding quarter.

Total earnings for the year 1915 amount to $130,351,296, which compare with $81,746,518 the previous year. The largest quarterly total earnings previously on record were for the second quarter of 1915, when they amounted to $45,503,705.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent on the preferred stock was also declared.

LODGE WILL ADOPT BABY
Knights of Khorassan Will Turn Out "Goat" and Raise a Child.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 26.—Zameri Temple, dramatic order of Knights of Khorassan, an organization composed of Knights of Pythias, is looking for a baby to adopt.

The committee appointed by the Temple is composed of County Commissioners Robert F. Bankert, Aldermen Welford E. Crampsey and William C. Shuff and N. H. Nicodemus. They are ready to receive exhibits of children, photographs, descriptions and pedigrees.

The baby suggestion was made at the installation of Grand Vizier Robert W. Smith, and was instantly acted upon.

He said: "Let Zameri Temple take time by the forelock. Why not turn the temple goat out to grass, send the temple mascot to the auction block and buy a temple baby? Thirty cents a day, or about $10 a year, will suffice to give a well trained child to a greater Altoona. If Zameri Temple adopts a temple child fifty other fraternal societies in Altoona will go and do likewise."

HOB0 DELEGATES JAILED
Millionaire Patron Telegraphs $9 for Release of Two.

St. Louis, Jan. 26.—The national convention of the Brotherhood Welfare association, an organization of "casual laborers," met here with twelve delegates and forty unemployed onlookers in attendance.

Six of the accredited delegates were unable to be present as they were in jail. Two of these were from Philadelphia, but they were detained by the police at Washington, Ind. James Earl How, millionaire patron of the Welfare association, telegraphed nine dollars to the Indiana town to get them out of jail.

Four delegates from New York were in prison at Norristown, Pa. No money was sent for their release.

SMALL MUTTON PIE.—Mix one quarter of a pound of beef suet, then melt it in a pan and when it boils pour in half a pint of milk. Allow this to come to boiling point and then strain through hair sieve on a pound of flour, with a little salt. Work the mixture to a smooth dough and divide into seven parts. Keep one aside for the lids. Shape these into rounds about three inches high and form them into round the bottom of a jar. Take some mutton cut into pieces—some people like the meat minced—season it with pepper and salt and fill it into the pie, adding a little gravy. Cover with lids of pastry, wetting the edges to make them soft, and make two holes in each to let out the steam. Cook in a quick oven.

Stew For the Children.—Put a pound of flank of lean mutton into a stewpan with two sliced onions. Brown nicely and pour in two pints of boiling water. Cover and stew gently for two hours, add a teaspoonful of rice and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Simmer again for about an hour or until the rice is tender.

Savory Vegetable Pie.—Wash and peel a pound of potatoes and cut them into thick slices. Boil two eggs quite hard, slice them, cut a Spanish onion into slices. Arrange a layer of potatoes at the bottom of a pie dish, then one of the onions and eggs, then another of potatoes till the dish is full. Pour in a cupful of stock. Cover with pastry and bake in a hot oven. This makes a good and savory luncheon without meat.

Blow Two Planks Out. result the heavy charge blew two planks out of the deck and narrowly missed exploding the gasoline tanks of the auxiliary engine.

Commander Perry, after inspecting the damage, approached Cummings and shook hands with him warmly.

"Campbell," he said, "allow me to congratulate you. You had all of Lake Michigan to shoot at, and that's the biggest mark I ever saw any one miss. But you did it."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Quill Pens in History.
Quill pens were made in the fifth century. There is no record of their earlier use. Theodor, the Ostrogoth king, is said to have been illiterate and unable to write his own name. A golden plate was made with the letters of his own name cut through it. This was placed over the document he was expected to sign, and he traced his name through the open spaces with a quill.

Rotation of the Earth.
The earliest writer, so far as we know, to conceive of the idea of a rotating earth was Philolaus, a Greek, who lived in the fifth century before Christ. The same man, on purely philosophical principles, also hit upon the idea of the sun as the center of our system—an idea that had to wait 2,000 years for confirmation, until Copernicus came in 1549.

A Large Miss.

A coterie known as the Constitution club makes a cruise almost every summer with Commodore Perry of the Chicago Yacht club.

A season or two ago, so the story goes, the yacht was leaving a pier at Lake Michigan summer colony, where the party had been entertained, and it was decided to fire a salute.

Campbell Cummings, one of the party, immediately announced he probably was the best artillerist present and loaded the small brass signal gun the yacht carried. Before firing the piece, however, he forgot to elevate the muzzle, with the result the heavy charge blew two planks out of the deck and narrowly missed exploding the gasoline tanks of the auxiliary engine.

Commander Perry, after inspecting the damage, approached Cummings and shook hands with him warmly.

"Campbell," he said, "allow me to congratulate you. You had all of Lake Michigan to shoot at, and that's the biggest mark I ever saw any one miss. But you did it."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A Complication Removed

By ESTHER VANDEVEER

"This John King," said Mrs. Haskins to her daughter Isabel, scanning a newspaper, "who is spending his money so lavishly must be the same man with whom you had that flirtation ten years ago when we were staying in Rome."

"Oh, mamma!"

"Why are you so moved, my dear? Surely there was nothing serious between you and him, and that was a long while ago."

"There was something between us, mamma."

"There was?" asked the mother in her turn, showing concern.

Isabel made no reply to the question, but after deep thought said:

"I wish to meet this Mr. King. If he is the same I met ten years ago I shall do all I can to win him."

"Why so--to secure his large fortune?"

"No; to remove a serious complication."

That was all the mother could get out of her daughter. The society news was scanned from day to day until Mr. King was mentioned as a guest at the house of one of Mrs. Haskins' friends. The lady was appealed to by a letter from Mr. King and did so at a dinner given by the mutual friend. After the dinner Isabel returned to her home with a red spot in each cheek and a spark in each eye.

"Well?" said Mrs. Haskins.

"Oh, mother, he has no remembrance of me whatever."

"Then he is the man we supposed him to be?"

"He is."

"And do you still desire to marry him?"

"Absolutely."

"Did he seem pleased with you?"

"I think so."

"Why is it not to his interest as much as yours that you and he should be married?"

"Perhaps it is."

"Then why do you not tell him of your meeting ten years ago, giving him the reasons, if he does not already know them, why he should marry you?"

"Because I loved him then. I love him now, and I wish him to marry me for love, not for any other reason whatever."

The mother was obliged to be satisfied with this statement, though curiosity was sharpened by her interest in her daughter. In time Mr. King was invited to the Haskins' to dinner. He came and set Isabel's heart wildly throbbing by saying some deliciously sweet words to her. But when later he met her at a social function she saw him chatting with another girl, and, judging from his expression, he was saying sweet words to her, causing Isabel's heart to sink as rapidly as it had risen.

A few days later Mr. King called, making an excuse the offering of his box at the opera. Either he was the same skillful love maker he had been a decade before or he was much smitten with Miss Haskins. In his conduct were many of the indications of a sure affection.

And so the affair went on. At one time he would be devoted to her; at another she would hear that he was browsing among the prettiest girls in the social swim. What most troubled her was that he was passing into that age where a bachelor's admiration is bestowed upon girls much younger than himself.

However, as the weeks flew by his devotion to Isabel grew more constant. He had appeared to purposely display attentions to young girls when she was present to observe them. This he was gradually giving up. Indeed, the affair between them had gone so far that his attentions to other girls ceased to trouble her. Flowers had begun to come from him to her, a sure sign that a proposal is about to be made. One evening when King followed a box of them he had sent he called, and when Isabel came down to meet him he put his arms about her, kissed her warmly and said:

"My dear wife, it is time this play came to a climax."

"Wife?"

"Yes. I knew you the moment I saw you. Immediately after that wedding which was got up between us in a youthful frolic I went to a lawyer and asked him if it could be construed into a legal marriage. He replied that if we both intended it as such it was within the law of wedlock. It was intentional with me. If it was the same with you we were married ten years ago."

"In my heart it surely was intentional."

"I resolved," continued King, "that as soon as I had accumulated a sufficient sum of money I would ask you the question that would, if answered in the affirmative, make us one. I have since been more than fortunate. I came here purposely to find you. When I saw that you did not remember me--"

"I did," interrupted Isabel. "I supposed, however, that you did not recognize me."

"I wished to win you."

"And I wished just as much to win you."

When Isabel joined her mother she gave evidence that something momentous had happened.

"You are engaged!" exclaimed Mrs. Haskins.

"No--married."

"Married!"

"Yes, we have been married ten years, but we didn't know it."

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing his through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, lustrous and long, and you appear years younger.

SCORES SIGNED REMONSTRANCE

Burgess, Town Councilmen, and Other Citizens Protest against Transfer of License at County Town Hotel.

The transfer of the tavern license at the Shaeffer House, East Berlin, which would have taken place to-day in the ordinary course of procedure, was halted Friday evening when a remonstrance was filed bearing the signatures of 190 residents of the town. The petitioner was Harry E. Nace, of Hanover, former proprietor of the Five Points Hotel, which is now without license.

The first signers on the remonstrance are the burgess and members of the town council of East Berlin, their official positions being indicated opposite their names on the papers. Three reasons are given for asking that the transfer be denied, lack of necessity, the unfitness of the applicant, and that there are not twelve signers duly qualified. Fourteen names are on the application.

It is known that the attorney representing the remonstrants has in his possession a copy of the papers filed May 3, 1915 in the office of the clerk of the courts of York county by Constable Samuel Coover, of the Fifth Ward, Hanover, in which it is alleged that, during his conduct of the Five Points Hotel, Nace sold intoxicating liquors to minors, to persons of known intemperate habits, that he sold it in quantities contrary to law, that "Harry E. Nace, himself, is a person of intemperate habits, and very frequently under the influence of liquor to such an extent that he cannot properly conduct the hotel business," and that the Five Points hotel had a bad reputation on account of alleged immoral practices, and that "frequently fights, loud noises, and disturbances are permitted to exist in and around the building."

By reason of the remonstrance having been filed, Friday, March 3, has been set for the taking of testimony and hearing of argument for and against the petition.

William Hersh Esq. represents the remonstrants, and Charles S. Duncan Esq. represents the petitioner.

NO GROUNDS SECURED

Directors of the Patriots Considering Several Sites.

The directors of the Gettysburg base ball club at their meeting Friday evening took no definite action on the propositions up for discussion. It was agreed that the team should have its own grounds this year if the matter could be properly financed but no steps have been taken to secure such grounds, nor have the college authorities been approached on the Nixon Field proposition. It is said that several sites are under consideration. It is suggested that the club may become incorporated with fifty stockholders at shares of $20 each.

Ira Plank reported that he had notified the Frederick management that negotiations for Gus Boyne had been called off.

The bazaar and minstrel show were again promised.

The chimney at the home of Charles W. Holtzworth, Chambersburg street, was found to be on fire about 7:30 this morning. Mrs. Holtzworth had just turned on the furnace draught and had returned to her duties when her attention was attracted by smoke. She called to Mr. Holtzworth, who investigated and found that the chimney was on fire. Charles Culp and Rufus Bushman quickly got a chemical fire extinguisher and put out the blaze before any damage had been done.

CINDER CAUSED SHORT WEIGHT

And Had Many Farmers Angry. Called in County Official to Make Adjustment before Affair was Settled.

The lodging of a large cinder between the platform and frame of scales at the Buckley warehouse at Littlestown is given as the cause of lively argument among farmers of that section when several of them claimed that they got short weight of twenty five and fifty pounds on hogs they had taken in for sale to Edward Hively.

Before the dispute was settled Sealer of Weights Raffensperger was called to the scene, and the services of Squire Mayers were enlisted to effect an amicable settlement.

It seems that Mr. Hively, of Frizellburg, has been shipping hogs from Littlestown to the city markets. James Kelly carried the check book and did most of the paying off. The weighing of the hogs was done on the Buckley scales at the warehouse, and these scales had been passed as correct by Sealer Raffensperger.

George Stover had been doing the weighing but it is alleged that complaint was lodged by the buyers to Mr. Buckley that some persons objected to Stover, and they wanted to do the weighing. Mr. Buckley had no objection to this and gave his consent.

When Ellis Schwartz sold his hogs he first weighed them on other scales, and when they were weighed by the buyers it is alleged the weight was 50 pounds short. Mr. Kelly offered a check in payment but Mr. Schwartz refused it. Morris Krug claimed a shortage of 25 pounds.

Mr. Raffensperger was notified and went to Littlestown. He tested the scales and found they had been tampered with. The farmers were greatly incensed over the whole matter and before Squire Mayers and Mr. Raffensperger they were paid in full for their claims by Mr. Kelly on the instructions of Mr. Hively.

The Messrs. Buckley state that in the future they will do the weighing and anyone objecting to Mr. Stover will have to look elsewhere to get their weighing done. The scales are again correct. The only thing necessary for Mr. Raffensperger to do was to adjust the balancing part. Mr. Kelly states that the whole trouble was caused by a cinder lodging between the platform and the frame.

MRS. JAMES A. BOWLING
After weeks of suffering, Mrs. Mary Gertrude Bowling, wife of James Albert Bowling, died at her home in Emmitsburg, Thursday night about 9:30. The cause of her death was a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Bowling was born in Liberty township, on January 6, 1879, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Goulden. She was aged 37 years, 1 month and 18 days.

Besides her parents and husband, she leaves nine children, Naomi, E. L. ward, Rosalia, Ethel, Helen, Ruth, Carroll, Francis and Paul; four brothers, Louis, of Richmond, Va.; Charles, Francis and John, of near Emmitsburg; and three sisters, Sister Vincent, who is a Sister of Charity, of Boston, Mass.; Rose and Agnes, of near Emmitsburg.

The funeral was held this morning at 10 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Rev. J. O. Hayden officiating and the interment was made in the Catholic cemetery, Emmitsburg.

MISS EMILY J. YOUNG

Miss Emily Jane Young, one of Hanover's most valued women, died Thursday evening, at her home after an illness of several months from paresis. She was aged 76 years, 11 months and 4 days.

Miss Young, who had many friends in Gettysburg, was an active member of the Civic League, a member of the governing board of the Public Library, an organizer of the Beethoven Club and an active member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church. She was also the treasurer for a period of years, of the Woman's Missionary Society of Western Pennsylvania Synod.

She leaves one brother, Charles Young, of Hanover.

Funeral Monday afternoon, at one o'clock from her late home.

MRS. CATHERINE WEIGAND
Mrs. Catherine Weigand died Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George H. Kraft, in Spring Grove, aged 86 years.

During her sickness the family was unable to prevail upon her to take any medicine. Pills that were given her would be found from time to time secreted in the bed or about the room.

She frequently recited incidents that occurred during the Civil War, especially of how her family was compelled by force to feed the soldiers of both the Union and Confederate armies. On several occasions large numbers of soldiers came to the Raubenstein home and consumed all the food, leaving practically nothing for the family.

Funeral Sunday morning in Spring Grove.

MRS. M. L. GANOE

Mrs. Sophie Jones Ganoe, wife of Rev. M. L. Ganoe, pastor of the Methodist church here from 1875 to 1877, died at her home in Chambersburg Thursday morning. Funeral this afternoon in Chambersburg.

HURT AT FUNERAL

Dislocated Her Hip in Fall on Sidewalk.

Mrs. Levi Myers, daughter-in-law of Andrew Myers, East Berlin, while on her way to the Myers residence, Friday morning to attend the funeral procession, slipped and fell on the icy sidewalk, sustaining a dislocated right hip. The accident occurred a short distance from the residence. Immediately after the accident took place she was removed to a nearby home.

HAS OLD BIBLES

One Copy was Printed almost Two Centuries ago.

Mrs. Ella Yeatts, of Hunterstown, has in her possession two German Bibles, one dated 1729, the other 1843. The latter is of large print with Old and New Testament, Psalms, and Concordance all combined. The first may have the same but the owner says she "has branched out too far from the German line to interpret that."

CAN BUILD FEW IMPROVED ROADS

State Needs All its Available Funds to Keep up those Taken over Five Years ago. Some are well Submerged.

The addition of 8800 miles of roads to the State highway system in 1911 has made it impossible for the State to spend money on needed reconstruction work, the whole appropriation being eaten up by maintenance, according to William D. Uhler, chief engineer of the State Highway Department.

In other States, he said, before roads were added to the State system, the counties reconstructed the highways, but here a lot of abandoned roads were unloaded on the State, some of which had not been in repair in twenty years. Others were under water part of the time. In some places it was so bad that it would take $20,000 to relocate three miles of roads.

Mr. Uhler said the State Highway Department was endeavoring to work out a system by which greater care would be taken of the main arterial roads which ran through the State without neglecting the lanes of lesser importance.

Another problem of the department, he said, was the shortage of men of training who understood road work. As the department needed their services only a few months in the year men of this character sought more permanent positions. Laborers also are hard to get in some parts of the State.

Mr. Uhler said that roads considered splendid a few years ago are today not able to withstand the hard usage of heavy trucks and that extra revenue was necessary to reconstruct and maintain these roads.

"Too often," said Mr. Uhler, "State Highway Departments are the instruments of political intrigue, but here Governor Brumbaugh has given State Highway Commissioner Cunningham to understand that all jobs and appointments were to be given and held strictly on merit and consequently the administrative and engineering parts of the Highway Department are developing a high order of efficiency."

$2500 PENSION

And now Has Honorable Discharge from Union Army.

Edward T. Lewis, a York veteran of the Civil War, who was unjustly branded as a deserter after having served three years in the Union Army, has at last been granted an honorable discharge through the efforts of Congressman Beales who placed the facts before the proper authorities. Lewis, it is said, will receive back pension amounting to about $2500.

The charge of desertion came about through Lewis being home on a furlough after re-enlisting, and being prevented by illness from going back with his command within the sixty day limit. Lewis was dishonorably discharged without the facts being known. His comrades never believed that he had deserted and at one time elected him commander of General John Sedgwick Post 37 G. A. R.

TO NATIVE HOME

Schley's Body may be Interred in Frederick Cemetery.

A movement, which may take on concrete form, was inaugurated at the seventh annual dinner of the Frederick county colony in Baltimore Thursday night, to have the remains of Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley removed to Frederick and interred there.

It was Attorney General Albert C. Ritchie, himself a Frederick countian, who initiated the movement, when, in the course of his address he evoked loud applause by declaring that Frederick countians should interest themselves in a movement to have the remains of that distinguished son deposited within the borders of the county which gave him birth. Mr. Ritchie referred in the highest terms to the life of Admiral Schley.

CAPTURE BOLD HORSE THIEF

Took his Time to Hitch up Horse and Buggy. Suspiciously Low Figures Asked Result in his Arrest.

A horse and buggy, valued at $250, was stolen on the farm of D. Charles Flook, a Frederick county member of the Maryland Legislature late Wednesday night. Thursday a negro giving his name as John Wilson, about 35 years old, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Lidie, of Thurmont, while trying to sell the team. The prisoner was held in $500 bail. Being unable to furnish surety he was committed to jail for the action of the next grand jury which will meet in September.

The theft was one of the boldest and most deliberate ever committed in that locality. It was discovered by an employee on the farm early the following morning. While endeavoring to locate the team the negro in charge of the horse and buggy was captured in a lonely section of the mountains three miles beyond Thurmont.

Wilson, who is a stranger, went to Mr. Flook's farm late at night. He opened the barn door, and after pulling out a stick wagon came to the buggy which he also took from the building. Behind the buggy he found the harness. He then took the horse and after hitching it to the vehicle drove off.

Shortly after daylight he arrived at a settlement in the mountain known as "Blue Blazes" and stopped at the saw mill of Joseph Hamilton. He asked Mr. Hamilton for feed for his horse and at the same time offered to sell the buggy and harness for ten dollars. Then he offered for an old saddle this outfit stating that he was on his way to York, where he expected to meet the owner of the horse. Finally he offered the horse for sale.

By this time Mr. Hamilton became suspicious and J. Edward Meissinger, who is employed at the mill, started on foot across the mountain for Thurmont to notify Deputy Lidie. The latter with Meissinger returned to the saw mill where, in the meantime Mr. Hamilton detained the negro on the pretense of bargaining for the team.

Deputy Lidie at once placed the negro under arrest.

SPORTSMEN MEET

And Elect their Officers. Will Ask for Closed Season.

The Adams County Fish and Game Protective Association, at a meeting in the law library of the court house Friday evening, elected P. A. T. Bower president, Charles W. Gardner secretary, Charles H. Bowers assistant secretary, and P. Ward Stallsmith treasurer.

The following vice presidents were named E. C. Fitz, Liberty township; F. Mark Bream, Gettysburg; Vincent Bushman, Reading township; J. H. Stover, Gettysburg; Samuel Shultz, Franklin township; George Smick, Huntingdon; E. J. Taylor, Menallen; Harvey Bushman, Cumberland; G. M. Raffensperger, Straban; Wm. J. Eden, Gettysburg; E. L. Golden, Mt. Pleasant; Noah Beamer, Arendtsville; Dr. Charles Miller, Biglerville; Joseph Lerew, Latimore; C. W. Hykes, Tyrone; Benjamin Blocher, Bendersville; N. R. Flemming, York Springs; J. Byron Horner, Highland, and E. W. Shriver, Butler township.

On account of the expected placing of wild turkeys and ring neck pheasants here during the next few weeks it was decided to ask the State authorities to declare a closed season in this county for both so that they may be allowed to multiply.

Dr. Markley, Clarence Bream, E. Mc. Eicholtz, C. K. Gilbert, Paul A. Martin, James Eicholtz, and H. E. Smiley were appointed as a committee to secure fish and game, and letters will be sent to Congressional and State representatives from this district so that Adams County may receive its share of pheasants and turkeys.

The new organization has a membership of 264. About 75 were present at Friday evening's meeting.

Order Your Harness

We make a special endeavor to keep on hand a large supply of all kinds of HARNESS, and usually are able to meet any demand made upon us for immediate delivery. Just at this time of the year, however, when farmers frequently desire a number of sets of the same kind, it is difficult to fill their requirements without any delay unless an order is placed with us in advance. We would suggest therefore, that farmers, intending to buy a large amount of harness notify us of the date when they will actually need it so that we may prepare to their wants promptly.

How a Camden Electrician Recovered

Camden, N. J.—"I had a deep-seated cough, a run-down system and my lungs were awfully weak and sore. I am an electrician by occupation, and my cough kept me awake nights so I thought at times I would have to give up. I tried everything everybody suggested and had taken so much medicine I was disgusted. One evening I read about Vinol and decided to give it a trial. Soon I noticed an improvement. I kept on taking it and today I am a well man. The soreness is all gone from my lungs. I do not have any cough and have gained 15 lbs. in weight and I am telling my friends that Vinol did it."—FRANK HILLMAN, Camden, N. J.

Vinol succeeds because it removes the deep-seated cause—by building up the whole constitutional system. Vinol contains the two most efficient tonics—peptonate of iron and all the medicinal elements found in the cod's liver, but no oil. Delicious to taste, agrees with every one.

VERDUN LINE AGAIN SMASHED

Germans Capture Six Towns and 10,000 Prisoners.

SLAUGHTER IS TERRIFIC

French Admit Evacuation of Beaumont, But Say Lines Have Not Been Pierced—Bombardment Is Unparalleled.

London, Feb. 26.—In their driving offensive for Verdun the armies of the German crown prince have pushed a vast wedge into the French lines north of the fortress until they are under the guns of some of the outlying forts. Berlin reports indicate a battle line only four and a half miles from Verdun itself.

In the sector stretching from Braubant to Beaumont, where the heaviest fighting has taken place, the German centre already has battled its way more than three miles south from its former position. Both sides have suffered tremendous losses in killed and wounded during the fighting over this ground, and the French have also lost heavily in prisoners. The latter now number more than 10,000, according to Berlin.

In their southward drive the crown prince's forces have captured no less than nine villages and fortified farms, successively occupying Maumont, Saigneux, Brabant, Ornes, Beaumont, Chambray, Marmon, Cotelette and Champagneville, while their vanguard now occupies the ridge on the outskirts of Loudeumont.

The German lines along the ridge between Champagneville and Loudeumont are but slightly more than two miles from Fort de Vacherauville and elsewhere are about the same distance from Donamont, outlying defenses of Verdun.

It is announced by Paris, which concedes the evacuation of Beaumont, that the French have established their lines behind that village along the heights east of Champagneville, and south of Ornes. Champagneville lies above a big bend of the Meuse river, five miles north of Verdun. It occupies the western flank of a chain of hills stretching north and southeast of Verdun.

More than four hundred guns are massed behind the German front, and the cannonade of the French redoubts and forts is described as the sublimest spectacle of destruction and thunder since the world began.

French officers who saw the French bombardment of the German positions in Artois last spring and the French cannonade of the German positions in Champagne last autumn describe them as mere displays of fireworks to the tornado of steel which the German batteries are now launching.

So terrific is the fire of the big German guns and the reply of the French artillery that the throbbing thunder is plainly audible at Bar le Duc, nearly thirty miles away from the scene of the battle.

The Kaiser himself is with the troops of his son, the crown prince, encouraging them to supreme effort. The Germans, Paris declares, have made little impression yet on the French center. The line is bent, but far from broken. The nature of the country between Beaumont and Saigneux lends itself more to attack than to defense, and the French command appears to have brought the line back chiefly to avoid useless losses, as well as to take up positions that are more easily defended.

The French defence, according to military experts, has proved itself most effective by inflicting appalling losses on the Germans. Prisoners taken stated that whole regiments have been wiped out. It is expected, however, that the Germans will return to the charge with renewed fury as they desire to get within reach of the forces.

Georgians Lynch Negro.

Cartersville, Ga., Feb. 26.—Jesse McCorkle, a negro, was taken from jail here by fifty men and boys, hanged to a tree in front of the city hall and his body riddled with bullets. McCorkle was arrested for breaking into the home of A. T. Heath and attacking Mrs. Heath, whose husband was away. The woman shot the negro in the wrist with a revolver, but she was overpowered.

Senate Confirms Fletcher.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Senate confirmed the nomination of Henry Prather Fletcher, as ambassador to the government of Mexico. The vote was forty to sixteen. Mr. Fletcher is at present ambassador to Chile. He was opposed by Republicans, who contended the United States should not endorse Carranza by naming an ambassador to his de facto government.

U. S. MAKES SHARP DEMAND ON BRITAIN

Insists Tonnage Seized on Steamer be Released.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The United States instructed Ambassador Page, at London, to make inquiries at the British foreign office regarding the removal of thirty-eight Germans, Austrians and Turks from the American steamship China in Asiatic waters, and to demand the release of the prisoners if they were arrested on the high seas, as has been indicated.

Great Britain maintains extra-territorial rights over the waters immediately adjacent to Shanghai, the China's sailing port for San Francisco, should the British government set up the claim that the vessel was within waters under British jurisdiction the United States would not have cause for further action.

Advices to the state department leave in doubt the exact position of the China. One consul report fixed the location as "ten miles off shore." The state department has been advised that the British foreign office is investigating the incident.

ROUT TURKS IN PERSIA

Ottomans in Full Retreat Toward Kermanshah.

Petrograd, Feb. 26.—Russian troops have won another great victory over the Turks, this time on Persian territory.

The Ottoman forces are in full retreat toward Kermanshah.

An official despatch from Teheran says:

"After a series of battles in Persia, the remnants of the enemy troops were reorganized and concentrated in the region of Kermanshah, and with the help of Turkish and German sappers, occupied and fortified two mountain passes—Bidesurks Pass, an almost impregnable natural position, and Sakhae Pass. News has been received that our troops dislodged the enemy from Bidesurks Pass and occupied Sakhae Pass, and are now pursuing the Turks. Our troops captured three field guns, one mountain gun, a quantity of shells, ammunition, wagons and field machine guns."

The Russian success in the region of Kermanshah is a sequel to a series of strategic Russian operations in Persia, with the purpose of putting an end to the activities of hostile mountain forces and organized bands of Kurds.

DURAZZO UNDER SIEGE

Austrians Announce Defeat of Italians and Esad's Troops.

Vienna, Feb. 26.—Durazzo, capital of Albania, is under siege by Austro-Hungarian troops. It was announced by the Austrian war office. Its report says:

"In Albania we defeated the Italians and troops of Esad Pasha near Durazzo and took possession of the last of the enemy's positions east of Bazar Syak. An Italian brigade (6,000 men) was driven from its main position east of Bazar Syak at the same time. Entrenchments of the enemy at Sassobianco, six miles southeast of Durazzo, were stormed. The enemy is retreating to the inner line of defenses, pursued by our troops."

Villa Occupies El Valle in Move North.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 26.—Francisco Villa has burned several houses at San Buenaventura and occupied El Valle, according to official reports received by General Gabriel Gaviro, commander of Juarez. General Gaviro said Villa's movement north was due to pressure of Carranza cavalry from the south.

WILSON FIRM FOR U. S. RIGHTS

Although House Favors Warning He is Unmoved.

BRYAN ENTERS THE FIGHT

Writes to Democrats Americans Should be Kept Off Armed Ships. Lodge Defends President.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The fight in congress over warning Americans off armed ships "marked time," with the parliamentary situation and other developments favoring President Wilson's position.

At a conference with house leaders the president was told that if resolutions to warn Americans could be forced to a vote now they would be passed in the house by a majority of two to one.

President Wilson, nevertheless, firmly and emphatically reiterated the unyielding position he outlined in his letter to Senator Stone. The leaders went back to the house prepared to hold the situation in check for the present, at least.

Former Secretary Bryan's influence came openly into the fight, when Representative Bailey, of Pennsylvania, gave out a telegram from Mr. Bryan opposing the president's position and supporting the agitation in congress.

In the senate, Mr. Lodge, the ranking Republican of the foreign relations committee, openly declared his support of the president's position. Senator Gore, Democrat, introduced his resolution warning Americans off armed ships, and Senator Jones, Republican introduced a resolution to require a break in diplomatic relations to be referred to congress. There was no discussion.

The cabinet discussed the situation thoroughly, and officials said the members were standing solidly behind the president.

Secretary Lansing said he had no new information from Berlin, and while reports were discussed that Germany might postpone the operation of the new submarine campaign no basis for them was discussed.

Senator Lodge, who is ranking Republican member of the foreign relations committee, said:

"The president takes the precise position that I have taken, and have been urging in public speeches for the last eighteen months. Of course, I shall stand by him. I agree fully with what he says. I believe it would proclaim us to the world as cowards to tell our citizens that they must not exercise their undoubted rights and that if they do we shall not protect them. A nation that will not protect its citizens cannot protect itself, and if democracy fails to protect itself, how can we hope to live?"

"The president says: 'What we are contending for in this matter is of the very essence of the things that have made America a sovereign nation. She cannot yield them without conceding her impotency as a nation and making virtual surrender of her independent position among the nations of the world.'"

"With this also I am in full accord. It is the doctrine I have preached all my life and I am with the president who sets it forth and stands by it." The Jones resolution was to express the sense of the senate that any issue affecting national honor should be referred before decision to congress and that no ultimatum should be sent to a foreign power, nor severance of diplomatic relations be permitted without reference to congress.

The resolution set out that it was contrary to the fundamental principles of the government to involve the people in war by the act or decision of one man. It was presented without any discussion and Stone asked that it lie on the table. When Gore's resolution was presented it took the same course.

Bailey made public the Bryan telegram, after a conference with Majority Leader Kitchin. It read:

"I honestly hope that congress will speedily announce legislation refusing passports to Americans traveling on belligerent ships, or still better, refusing clearance to belligerent ships carrying American passengers."

"No owner of belligerent ships will claim that he has the right to safeguard a contraband cargo with American lives and no citizen should be permitted to endanger the peace of the nation at a time like this. Ours is the greatest of the neutral nations and will probably be the mediator when the time comes for mediation. It would be a crime against civilization, as well as against our own people, to become involved in this war and thus loan our army and navy to a European monarch to use in settling his quarrels."

"If congress has the right to declare war, it certainly has the right to promote peace by restraining citizens from taking unnecessary risks. A major keeps the people of his city out of the danger zone during a riot. Can our government do less when the world is in riot?"

HUGHES REITERATES DENIAL OF CANDIDACY

Neither Actively Nor Tacitly, He Declares.

New York, Feb. 26.—In a letter to Henry A. Wise Wood, former member of Secretary Daniel's naval advisory board made public, Justice Charles E. Hughes reiterates his declaration that he is not a candidate for the presidential nomination.

Mr. Wood had requested a statement as to Mr. Hughes' position on preparedness. Justice Hughes replied in part:

"In view of my judicial office I do not feel that I have any right to take part in any political discussion or to make statements of the sort that would be expected from candidates for office. I am not a candidate, actively or tacitly, and as I do not wish to do anything which would justify being regarded as an attempt to obtain political support, I must ask to be excused from answering your inquiry."

Mr. Wood, in his letter to Justice Hughes, asked that he reconsider his position on the question of his candidacy, saying that many influential persons insisted that finally he must consent to run.

SUFFS AFTER H. J. STEELE

Begin Meetings in Easton to Win Him Over.

Easton, Pa., Feb. 26.—The suffragists are after Representative Henry J. Steele, of the twenty-sixth district.

As a member of the judiciary committee of the house he voted to send the suffrage amendment back to the subcommittee to report on December 14.

Miss Isabella Mott, of New York, a national organizer, was sent here from the congressional union state headquarters in Philadelphia, to arouse the woman suffrage advocates in this district to bring pressure to bear on Mr. Steele. Miss Mott addressed a suffrage meeting at the home of Mrs. E. R. Yarnall. The suffragists propose to camp on Congressman Steele's trail until they win him over, they declare.

HEAVY DAMAGE

Great Stand of White Timber in Old Mont Alto Park.

The February number of Forest Leaves contains pictures of sections of forests damaged by the severe storm of last December.

The magazine has a very interesting article by Prof. J. S. Illick, of the faculty of the State Forest Academy at Mont Alto, in which he tells of the extensive damage done. He writes:

"In Mont Alto park, formerly one of the best known and most widely visited parks in the state, stood a pure stand of white pine. The trees averaged 69 years in age, 17 inches in diameter, and 76 feet in height. The condition of the stand prior to the storm gave strong evidence of its careful management in the past. At about 8:15 a. m. December 29, 1915, a few of the less storm-resistant trees began to give way in front of the storm. Single trees continued to fall intermittently until about 8:45, i. e. 30 minutes after the first tree fell.

"Then, just as if the signal had been given, the resistance of the entire stand was broken down, and in a few minutes it lay prostrate on the ground. The financial loss will be considerably reduced because the trees, which had already reached a merchantable size, will be converted into lumber and marketed immediately by the forester in charge of the Mont Alto state forest. The loss from an instructional and aesthetic point of view will, however, be considered, because it was one of only a few stands of pure white pine in that portion of the state."

WHY NEW YORK GETS MONEY

Congressman Ragsdale of South Carolina, in discussing the Banking System, Pays Tribute to Business Men of the Metropolis—Asserts They Know How to Handle Large Sums.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Feb. 26. [Special.] Significance is attached to the support which Governor Whitman of New York is giving to Justice Hughes on account of the intimate terms of the friendship that has always existed between the two men.

Hughes gave Whitman his first appointment. Not long ago they were photographed together at a meeting in New York. Whitman is a delegate at large to the convention. Altogether politicians are considering the importance of all these things taken in conjunction with the statements which the justice has made, none of which takes him entirely beyond the possibility of acceptance if nominated. Whitman's position has given great encouragement to the Hughes backers, many of whom say nothing can stop his nomination.

New York Knows How.

During the discussion of a banking bill in the house Congressman Ragsdale of South Carolina explained why it was that money goes to New York city. He said the bankers and financiers of that city know how to utilize money. They use money in the south when needed, in the west when called for and in other sections when there is a demand. He said they knew more about the distribution and use of money than the federal reserve board banks. That was one reason why these various branch reserve banks did not do the business they were expected to do, and New York continued to be the financial center.

Congressman Bennett of New York expressed his gratification that one member had chosen to give New York business men a little credit instead of constant and unmerited abuse.

—The Wonder Man.

Senator Newlands is the wonder man of the senate. He recently made a speech advocating his plan for the expenditure of $200,000,000 in ten years to create a water and navigation system of the United States, and what is more, he interested the senators. There were men there who believe that some time the Newlands plan will be carried out, although by some it is now called utopian.

Newlands has been a pioneer in many propositions, but his judgment has been vindicated by the action of congress. He was the originator of our present irrigation system.

—Will Not Be Crossed.

Minority Leader Mann does not like to be crossed when he has some particular purpose in view. Only recently he characterized as "silly" a question by Congressman Stephens of Texas. Stephens is quite an old man, is chairman of the committee on Indian affairs and has served in the senate for twenty years. "I know a great deal more about what is done in the house than the gentleman from Texas, who would not assume to know anything," Mann said at another point.

Whacked Pinchot.

While Senator Nelson was discussing the water power bill Senator Thomas of Colorado asked if he had read a statement that Gifford Pinchot would endorse to have the bill vetoed if it passed.

"The country has been suffering under the sinister influence that was originated by that man," replied Nelson. "I hope we have got beyond that. I hope we have got beyond allowing an outsider at the head of a reform bureau to dictate to congress and the president of the United States."

The Cyclone's Roar.

Here is something from a speech of Cyclone Davis on Congressman Quin of Mississippi, who was once a little navy and little army man and who has recently turned the other way and is a devoted follower of the president. "The Hon. Percy Quin dropped and made that hair raising, flesh crawling, agonizing speech in which he raved and ranted, puffed and painted, moaned and groaned, had nightmares and jim-jams over impending massacres and murders, conflagrations and calamities—"

And so on, showing that the Cyclone can and does utilize the language which gave him fame and name twenty years ago.

A Minnesota Rider.

Congressman Miller wanted provision made for the Minnesota Indian fighters of the big Indian war in his state and told of one exploit by a Minnesota man.

"We were thrilled a few years ago because a great president showed his marvelous physical strength by riding ninety-seven miles in twenty-four hours. One man, a son of a farmer, when Fort Ridgely was attacked slipped through the Indian line, through the cordon of enemies and in nineteen hours rode 173 miles to Fort Snelling and gave the alarm."

"Nothing the matter with you at all. You are in perfect health. Why, your pulse is as steady as clockwork!" "But doctor, you have got your fingers on my wrist watch!"

WANTS TO KNOW

Barldoll Remonstrants Must Make Show-Down Says Judge.

Next Monday Judge Gillan will hear the remonstrance against granting license to W. M. Barldoll, proprietor of the National Hotel, Greencastle. The witnesses will be N. M. Beatty, J. E. Reynolds, J. H. Byder, S. H. Leiter, Albert Swope. Another signer to the remonstrance has moved to Pittsburgh and is without the jurisdiction of that Court.

The remonstrance filed, which attacked the license on the ground that it was not necessary and the applicant not a fit person, had been practically withdrawn—at least no evidence was offered in substantiation of the allegations. But Judge Gillan is not satisfied to let it go at that and wants to know what grounds the remonstrants had for making the charges, especially that of unfitness of the applicant.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 26.—The professional evangelist never can take the place of the regular preacher in bringing men and women into the church and keeping them there, declared Rev. Dr. W. P. Heil, former bishop, in addressing the East Penn conference of the United Evangelical church.

He said the professional "rawdust trail" man is a big aid, but that his work never can be anything but supplementary. Reports of district superintendents generally showed gains in membership.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS

Much interest is centered in the forthcoming production of "Japland", the season's biggest novelty, which is to be seen at Walter's Theatre near Wednesday evening. The offering is described as a pleasing mixture of opera, minstrelsy and farce, in two acts and fourteen scenes. John W. Vogel's Big Minstrels furnish the hilarious fun that is synonymous with minstrelsy while a complete cast of operatic principals and a big girl chorus take care of the more exacting song numbers. The company numbers fifty two and Wednesday will be gala night at Walter's Theatre.—advertisement

Electric Restaurants.

A large mining company has installed an electric restaurant 150 yards from the foot of the shaft in one of its mines. Here food is cooked or heated electrically, and hot coffee is prepared by the same means. Since most of the important coal mines already use electric power underground for power purposes, there should be little difficulty in establishing subterranean electric restaurants in any of them.

NO PACIFIC FLEET WORTHY OF NAME

Winslow Says All Might be Victim of One Battleship.

STANDARDS ARE TOO LOW

Admiral Favors General Staff to Promote Efficiency and is Against Keeping Ships "in Reserve."

Washington, Feb. 26.—Rear Admiral Cameron McItee Winslow, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, told the house naval affairs committee that the national defenses of the Pacific coast at present amounts to nothing at all. The entire fleet which he commands, he said, might be an easy victim for a single good enemy battleship. He testified before the committee through the suggestions made recently by Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, who said the admiral's testimony would be of great value to the committee members.

Admiral Winslow expressed the opinion that many complete changes in naval policy are necessary before the United States floating forces could be 100 per cent efficient. He urged a general staff for the navy similar to that of the army, and a policy of promotion by selection, instead of by seniority. He gave the committee the impression that the standards of the fleet were not high enough, and that it would take five years to bring the navy to first-class fighting condition. He advocated reforms both in men and ships and policies, but was frank to say that he believed it would take years to bring them about.

The admiral declared that even the administration's five year building program would not produce an adequate fleet, chiefly because of a scarcity of battle cruisers. He pointed to the many ships now "in reserve" and declared this naval habit, saying that they should always be kept in prime condition for immediate service.

Representative Stephens, of California, asked Admiral Winslow what he thought of the Pacific fleet.

"It is not a fleet at all," was the answer, "and never was intended to be a fleet." The admiral told the committee that his substitute flagship, the Iris, is a totally unarmed vessel.

The admiral maintained that all military functions should be under the direct control of professionally trained naval officers. He declared that no secretary of the navy had ever had, or possibly could have had, the knowledge necessary to pass on the questions which he must decide under the present system.

Further light on the war department's plan for additional coast defenses also was obtained, when testimony of Brigadier General William Crozier, chief of army ordnance, before the fortifications committee, became available.

The heaviest new fortifications General Crozier said, would be placed at the mouth of the Chesapeake bay which he described as one of the places where "facilities for land operations are so good that it is worth while to especially fortify them to prevent that operation, notwithstanding that they are not places where inadmissible damage can be done by the guns of a fleet."

Atlantic City and Gloucester, Mass., militarily might be victims of fleet fire, he said, but their bombardment would not injure the nation's ability to continue the war and so it is not proposed to fortify them.

"It is impracticable to defend the whole coast against damage," he said "certain points are selected for fortification where the damage would be so important as to affect the fighting ability of the United States."

EXPORTS BREAK ALL U. S. RECORDS

Total $2,181,312,322 For Seven Months.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The country's export trade declined during January, though the month's total was 10 per cent above that for the same month of last year.

Figures made public by the commerce department show the value of exports was $335,535,363, compared with $352,869,000 for December. The increase over January, 1915, was nearly $68,000,000.

Imports still are increasing, the total for January being $184,192,299, a gain of more than $12,000,000 over December. Nearly seventy-four per cent of the imports were free of duty, indicating increased imports of raw materials and decreased imports of manufactured European goods.

For the seven months ended with January, the exports totaled $2,181,312,322, or sixty-four per cent higher than for the same period a year ago, and forty per cent higher than the former best record made in 1912-13.

Imports for the seven months totaled $1,096,979,173, or about $500,000 more than the former high record total of $1,096,484,767 recorded in the seven months of 1912-13, and $166,500,000 more than for the corresponding period of 1914-15. The seven months just ended showed an export balance of $1,084,333,149.

Regarding the Teeth.

The teeth serve varied purposes. The four front teeth, or incisors, are chisel-shaped in order that they may cut or bite. This shape is also helpful in enunciation. The "eye" teeth, behind the incisors, are better fitted for heavier cutting or biting than the front ones. They are a transition form between the incisors and the larger teeth, which stand next and which break the food into small bits before it is ground and pulverized by the solid back teeth.

Facts Versus Fallacies

FACT is a real state of things. FALLACY is an apparently genuine but really illogical statement or argument.

WHEN, at the beginning of the war, Russia forbade the sale of spirituous liquors, the act was hailed as having a world-wide influence for the cause of Prohibition. But note, now that a year has passed, how the FALLACY has been exploded by FACTS.

UNDER the caption of "Difficulties with Prohibition in Russia," the Literary Digest has this to say in a recent issue: "The wave of temperance which swept Russia at the beginning of the war, after the Czar's ukase forbidding the sale of spirituous liquors, is rapidly receding. Deprived of the vodka, to which they were so strongly addicted, the Russian people, we are told by some outspoken organs of the press of that country, are consuming various poisonous substitutes, the secret manufacture and sale of which are assuming considerable proportions throughout the Empire. Cases of poisoning caused by these drinks are a daily occurrence. Writing in the Russki Vrach (Petrograd), Dr. Novoselski gives interesting figures showing the growth of mortality due to alcoholism in Petrograd.

"SAYS he: 'Before prohibition the mortality figures varied and changed without definite regularity; after prohibition, they showed a regular and constant increase. The prohibition measures we are becoming stricter and stricter; at first the sale of vodka was forbidden everywhere but at first-class restaurants; then the prohibition was extended also to those restaurants, but with the permission to sell beer and wine; and lastly there followed a general and complete prohibition of the traffic in any and all alcoholic drinks in general. And the mortality from alcoholism increased as those measures progressed.'

"IN RUSSIA'S western provinces, according to 'R. G.' in the Rytski, prohibition does not seem to be very popular. He says: 'The sun of sobriety has set before it reached the zenith. The first two months drunkenness was really not noticeable. In the villages the fact that the law came into force at the busy season contributed largely toward abstinence from drink. In the city isolated cases of the use of poisonous imitations of alcoholic beverages ended so deplorably that there was a fair prospect of getting rid of incurable drunkards. The village folk had hardly had time to wear out the boots in which they marched after the coffin of the "Monopoly" when tens of thousands of illicit liquor distilleries, factories of all kinds of strong drinks, came into existence.'

"ACCORDING to official data, for the latter part of 1914, there were discovered in Vilna government alone, 58 illicit liquor distilleries, while for the preceding year, there had been discovered 14 such places. But in the place of those suppressed new ones spring into existence, and, besides, the manufacture of alcoholic beverages is being practiced in private dwellings."

AGAIN and again in this series of articles it has been said that it is a FALLACY to think that Prohibition prohibits; whereas it is a FACT that it merely prevents the legalized and regulated sale of liquor. And Russia's experience with its vodka is a case in point!

A Lot of New Things for the Up To-Date Buyer

Have You Seen the New AIR-O-LITE Lamp?

The Air-O-Lite is a wonderful table lamp, and more, for each lamp is furnished with a hanger. It is fine for the porch, the lawn party or the playground. It is practical for the workshop, barn or garage. It is a great emergency light for the store where regular lights fail at times. It is just the thing for the desk or some show case that needs brilliant lights. Then there is always some dark corner, some dark room, some cellar or basement, little used and not lighted, to which the Air-O-Lite is quickly carried with ease and safety.
It burns at any angle and will not blow out. It floods with light all dark places under counters, in corners and the deepest recesses of shelving.

Then We Have The AIR-O-LANTERN

This lantern makes night work easy. It supplies a great need. On the farm it is indispensable for the barn and for all the late work about the place. It is useful to hotels and liverymen. It's what builders and contractors have been looking for. IT CAN'T BLOW
OUT. THE AIR-O-LANTERN proves its worth best in time of storm. It is one great light not affected by wind, sleet or snow. It's the "Light that never fails".
